Part 2: Reflection of your Nurse Practitioner Practice

- Describe how your activities meet the scope of Nurse Practitioner practice including all elements of the nursing process.
- Reflect on your competency to perform the activities, including additional education to attain and maintain your competence.

Part 3: Provide a written description of how the Registered Nurse (Nurse Practitioner) Practice Standards (2017) apply in the position.

STANDARD 1: Professional Responsibility and Accountability

The RN(NP) is responsible for professional conduct and accountability in all areas of practice.

STANDARD 2: Knowledge-based Practice

RN(NP)s are knowledgeable of advanced practice clinical judgment and clinical reasoning and practise safely, competently, and ethically.

STANDARD 3: Ethical Practice

The RN(NP) utilizes the principles in the current Code of Ethics for Registered Nurses for professional judgement and practice decisions (Canadian Nurses Association, 2017). The RN(NP) “engages in critical inquiry to inform clinical decision-making, establish therapeutic caring, and culturally-safe relationships with clients and the health care team” (SRNA, 2019, p. 5).

STANDARD 4: Service to the Public

The RN(NP) ensures all care is comprehensive and in the interest of the clients. The RN (NP) “demonstrates leadership in quality and ethical nursing practice, delivery of health care services and establishing professional relationships” (SRNA, 2019, p. 6).

STANDARD 5: Self-Regulation

The RN(NP) “demonstrates an accountability to regulate themselves in accordance with their legislated scope of practice” (SRNA, 2019, p. 7).

STANDARD 6: Therapeutic Management

The RN(NP) integrates evidence-informed knowledge to synthesize assessments and diagnostic findings in order to determine appropriate therapeutic management for clients.
